Juried By: Chris LaPorte

Fulltime Visiting Professor

Aquinas College Art Department

Grand Rapids, Michigan

Chris received art degrees from Aquinas College, La Coste Ecole de Beaux Arts, and the New York Academy of Art, and his MFA from the New York Academy of Art–The Graduate School of Figurative Art. He has taught at Grand Valley State University, Grand Rapids Community College, Kendall College of Art and Design and is currently a fulltime visiting professor at Aquinas College in addition to his work as a professional artist. He has pursued drawing as a vocation for his entire adult life, participated in many exhibitions, and received numerous honors and awards for his work, most notable of which was First Place in ArtPrize 2010 for "Cavalry, American Officers, 1921." He recently received the President's Award at Aquinas College.

"I love to draw. Drawing is always cool—no matter what your age or background."
